

kainet

MICROSERVICES ARCHITECTURE

The KAINET platform is designed by exploiting a microservice architecture.

This means that it can be distributed and replicated across multiple nodes, consistent with computational load. Microservices communicate with each other through Consul, which acts as a service discovery and configuration server.

Sogetel
Via Giunio Antonio Resti, 63
00143, Roma, Italy
+39 06 51530393/4
marketing@sogetel.it